

Keio University Graduate School of Media Design

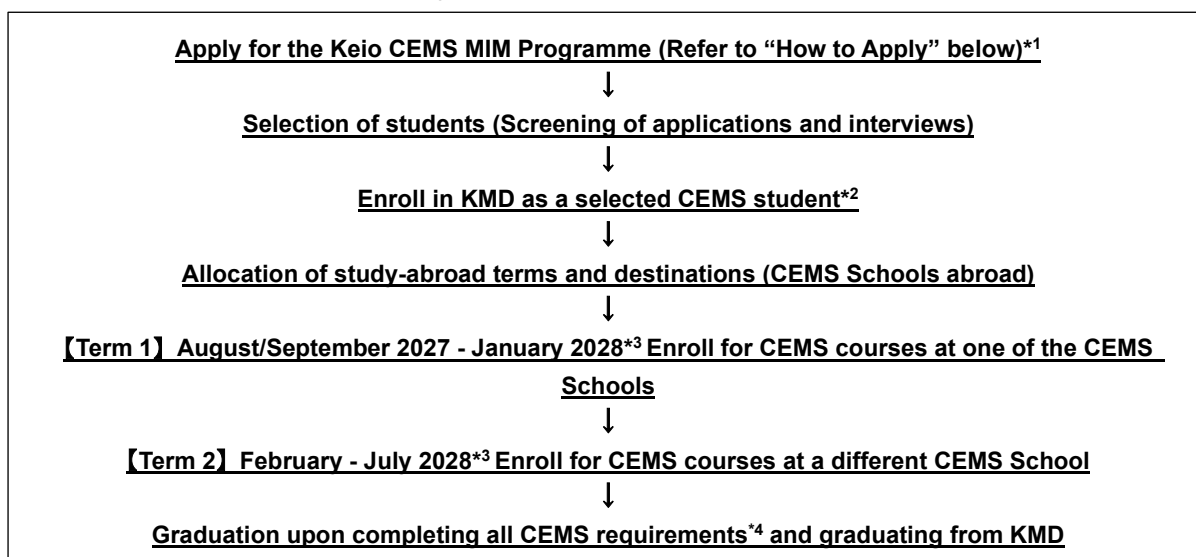

Application Guidebook Keio CEMS Master's in International Management Programme (CEMS MIM Programme) For Enrollment in September 2025, April 2026 or September 2026

Keio University Graduate School of Media Design (KMD) offers a double-degree programme with CEMS, the Global Alliance in Management Education. Since it is a double-degree programme, you will not be able to earn the CEMS MIM degree without also earning a master's degree from KMD. Please note, as shown in the flow chart below, the semesters (Term 1/Term 2) and the universities where you will be allocated for studying abroad will be determined after you are selected as a Keio CEMS MIM student. CEMS is interested in producing graduates who will thrive on the global stage. Therefore, we select students who will enthusiastically exert their utmost effort wherever they are in the world.

Study abroad from September 2026

Study abroad from September 2027

- *1 You will be able to indicate your preferences regarding your study-abroad terms and destinations when filling out CEMS Web Registration (the CEMS Common Application Form). Based on your preferences, your study abroad terms and destinations will be determined by the CEMS Steering Committee after the final interview. However, there is no guarantee that you will be allocated to your preferred terms and destinations. You are not permitted to change your preferences after the application deadline.
- *2 Students are required to pay a Student Registration and Handling Fee (As of July 2025, €100) to the CEMS headquarters. As a general rule, students of the CEMS MIM Programme are exempt from tuition fees at their study abroad destinations (certain institutions may charge students with additional fees for specific programs, such as Block Seminars). CEMS students shall bear the costs of their flight tickets and living expenses (e.g., accommodation, food, transportation, and other expenses).
- *3 Term dates and schedules vary by CEMS School.
- *4 The CEMS Graduation Ceremony will take place once a year in November/December at one of the CEMS Schools.
